DETAILED ACTION

Applicant's arguments, see paper, filed 7/12/06 and 7/13/07, with respect to the rejection(s) of claim(s) 1-70 under 35 USC 103(a) have been fully considered and are persuasive. Therefore, the rejection has been withdrawn. However, upon further consideration, a new ground(s) of rejection is made below.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 1,6-18,20-27,34-53,60-70 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. The specification does not exemplify, define or explain what is meant by auxin (IBA, IAA) derivatives, metabolites, precursors, etc.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

The term "auxin (IAA, IBA) derivatives, metabolites, precursors, etc." in claims 1,6-18,20-27,34-53,60-70 is a relative term which renders the claim indefinite. The term "auxin (IAA, IBA) derivatives, metabolites, precursors, etc." is not defined by the claim, the specification does not provide a standard for ascertaining the requisite degree, and one of ordinary skill in the art would not be reasonably apprised of the scope of the invention. What is meant by the term "auxin (IAA, IBA) derivatives, metabolites, and precursors"?

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1,5-7,18,20-23,25-29,33-39,48-55,60-62,64,66-68 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Ogbonna et al (Effect of seed-pretreatment with some plant growth regulators on germination, growth and yield of cowpea, Nippon Sakumotsu Gakkai Kiji, 1989, 58(4), 641-7). Ogbonna teaches the pretreatment of cowpea seeds with indole acetic acid (IAA) and indole butyric acid (IBA). The instant invention teaches the active step of applying IAA and IBA to seed. Since instant invention like Ogbonna teach the same active step of treating seed with IAA and IBA, it is inherent that Ogbonna's treatment of seed would inhibit the growth of fungi / organisms on and in plant tissues. See abstract.

Claims 1,6,7,13,25-27,33-35,37-39,43-45,48,49,51-54,57 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Prasad et al (Physio Therapy of Rice Plant against the root-knot nematode meloidogyne-graminicola, Biological Sciences, 1976,vol. 42 no. 6, pp. 295-298). Prasad teaches a method of treating foliage with naphthyl acetic acid (NAA) and indole butyric acid (IBA) or applying said chemicals as a soil drench. The instant invention teaches the active step of applying NAA and IBA to foliage. Since instant invention like Prasad teach the same active step of treating foliage with IAA and IBA, it is inherent that Prasad's treatment of foliage would inhibit the growth of fungi / organisms on and in plant tissues. See abstract.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 8-10,14,30,31,40-42,56,59,63 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ogbonna as applied to claims 1,5-7,18,20-23,25-29,33-39,48-55,60-62,64,66-68 above. Ogbonna teaches all that is recited in claims 8-10,14, 30,31, 40-42, 56, 59,63 except for the invention comprising 1) the instant amount of auxin to seed and 2) the auxin being applied as a dry powder or an aqueous solution. One having ordinary skill in the art would have been expected to determine the optimum amount of auxin to apply to the seed. Determining the optimum amounts of ingredients is a standard practice in the art. In the absence of unexpected data all modes of applying auxin to seed, including applying as a dust or an aqueous solution, would have been expected to be effective.

Claims 14,22,23,40-42,59 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Prasad as applied to claims 1,6,7,13,25-27,33-35,37-39,43-45,48,49,51-54,57 above. Prasad teaches all that is recited in claims 14,22,23, 40-42,59 except for the invention comprising 1) the instant amount of auxin to foliage or soil and 2) the auxin being applied as a dry powder. One having ordinary skill in the art would have been expected to determine the optimum amount of auxin to apply to foliage or soil. Determining the optimum amounts of ingredients is a standard practice in the art. In the absence of unexpected data all modes of applying auxin to seed, including applying as a dust or an aqueous solution, would have been expected to be effective. The application of the chemicals as a soil drench suggests the application of the chemicals to the root system.

Claim Objection / Election Requirement

Claims 32 and 58 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims. The prior art does not teach or suggest the invention comprising metals of the claims. Election requirement is withdrawn.
